

Mr. Joseph Garcia is Chief Financial Officer for a federal government agency in Washington, DC. Previously, he was the CFO for FEMA Gulf Coast Hurricane Katrina Recovery operations in their New Orleans, Louisiana office, where he served in this Senior Executive Service position for three years. He established a Good Stewardship Council and his mantra was “to not sacrifice the recovery mission, but to honor the sacrifices of the American taxpayers who provided us with their resources.” His efforts dramatically improved resource management across the Gulf Coast. Joseph is a retired Air Force Lieutenant Colonel, serving 28 years on active duty including tours at the Pentagon, Air Force Academy, and numerous overseas assignments, including a six-month deployment to Saudi Arabia.

In addition to his Master’s Degree in Business Administration from the University of Central Oklahoma, Garcia holds a Masters in Executive Leadership from Georgetown University. His awards include: Federal Woman’s Program Male Boss of the Year, Department of Defense Comptroller of the Year, and a Superior Mission Achievement award from the Department of Homeland Security. On a volunteer basis, he serves as Board Chairman of a national nonprofit that supports women and children recovering from human rights abuse such as trafficking.

He is a Certified Government Financial Manager and a Certified Defense Financial Manager. Garcia recently authored a book, The Leader’s Pyramid: a balanced and consistent approach to leadership. He and his wife, Brenda, reside in Bowie, Maryland.
