

MSCCN VOLUNTEER
PROGRAM COORDINATOR

Bianca Nafpliotis

Bianca Nafpliotis is the Volunteer Program Coordinator for the Career Corps Volunteer Program.

Bianca was born in Romania and obtained degrees from Universities in Romania and Ireland. She has a career in business and teaching, and is fluent in the Romanian, English and Greek languages. Her degrees – Masters in Business Administration, Masters in Systems Engineering, and Bachelors in Manufacturing Technology – and her work experience prepared her for her current position as the Volunteer Program Manager for the Career Corps Volunteer Program (the CASY-MSCCN volunteer program) where she helps Career Corps members meet program and department objectives, keep career time and skills sets current, expand knowledge and skills sets, and achieve the ultimate goal of finding a job. In addition to the above degrees, Bianca recently completed training and successfully passed the exam to become an IBM Certified Analyst - i2 Analysts Notebook V8.9.

Bianca is the wife of a retired Sailor. She enjoys helping those who are in need, especially those within the military community. She understands the struggles that spouses (especially foreign spouses) and families face during long deployments, new commands and different periods of transition.
